SECTION B: MEN'S & WOMEN'S ROAD CYCLING

5. INTRODUCTION TO ROAD CYCLING (TEAM TIME TRIAL, INDIVIDUAL MASS START, CRITERIUM)

5.1 Men's Team Time Trial event (team medal awarded)

Team composition ranges from at least 2 and no more than 10. Winning team is determined by the fastest team to finish. The event regulations will specify on which rider of a team crossing the finishing line the classification of teams would be timed for the finish, (i.e. at world championships 6 riders to start, minimum 4 riders to finish). Maximum distance for this event is 100km. Average speed at best can only be an estimate to gauge an athlete's performance, average speed achieved is highly subjected to the following (i.e. Course profile, Environmental Conditions). Riders that specialize in this event are able to sustain a high average power for approximately an hour in duration. A Time Trial specialist will contribute to the Team for the Road Race and Criterium events. SCF's submission to SNOC will reflect this, i.e. achievements will be team-based and NOT as an individual.

5.2 Men's and Women's Individual Mass Start event (individual medal awarded, success in this event relies heavily on teamwork)

The riders start together in a bunch and the eventual winner is the one that crosses the line first. The distances are typically 165km for Men and 120km for Women. The team composition ranges from 2 to 9 riders. Race tactics requires the depth of specialization of each rider (i.e. climb, sprint or time trial specialist) in adding up to the overall strength in team composition. Riders designated as "domestiques" must work well together as a team by going for attacks and perform defending roles, each depleting his/her own energy stores and allowing the designated "leader" to conserve his/her own energy by drafting and then attacking only when critical. "domestiques" will have a significant lower probability of meeting with SNOC's Selection Criteria, due to high dedication of his/her role. SCF's submission to SNOC will reflect this, i.e. achievements will be team-based and NOT as an individual.

5.3 Men's and Women's Criterium event (individual medal awarded, success in this event relies heavily on teamwork)

Criterium is an individual mass start race conducted on a circuit with and classification is either (a) at the finish of the last lap OR (b) on the basis of the number of laps covered and the number of points obtained during the intermediate sprints. The Criterium event takes place over a circuit ranging from 800meters to 10km in distance with riders doing laps around the circuit covering distances ranging from 50km for Men and 40km for Women. The team composition ranges from 2 to 9 riders. Race tactics require depth of specialization of each rider (i.e. sprint and time trial specialist) in adding up to overall strength in team composition. Riders designated as "domestiques" must work well together as a team by going for attacks and perform defending roles, each depleting his/her own energy stores and allowing the designated "leader" to conserve his/her own energy stores by drafting and then attacking only when critical. "Domestiques" will have a significant lower probability of meeting with SNOC's Selection Criteria. SCF's submission to SNOC will reflect this, i.e. achievements will be team-based and NOT as an individual.

5.4 In a "team event," e.g. Individual Mass Start or Criterium, all athletes must be prepared that he/she may not be identified to be the "designated lead rider" during a particular competition(s). Instead heavy contribution to teamwork will be required from each athlete to work together to contribute towards a podium finish. This is critical and will enable the highest probability for team Singapore to medal at the Road Race and Criterium events. With the summary of centralized training and competition attendance listed in para 6.1 to 6.5, along with other intricacies of Road cycling would be used as justifications when SCF submits the longlist of athletes who may not have met with SNOC's selection criteria.

6 OTHER CONTRIBUTING FACTORS USED AS A BASIS TOWARDS SELECTIONS

Mandatory attendance for Centralized Team Training for SCF Nominated NTS Athletes into the Road events. Athletes who are not able to meet the stipulated training and competition requirements must inform SCF in writing within 3 working days of the occurrence addressed to admin@cyclimg.org.sg

6.1 Physiological Profiling

- a. Athletes must have completed SCF's power profile and met with the SCF's stipulated performance benchmarks (measured in power) in order to be selected into SCF's NTS for Road Cycling discipline. The measurement of power is the gold standard when considering who has the best "physical fitness for cycling". Utilizing power data, an identification into the depth of specialization which will feature climb, sprint, time trial and domestique specializations.
- b. Regular tracking of physiological power profiling conducted by SCF once every 3 months would count towards final selections.

6.2 Annual Training Plan

Athletes making a nomination are required to submit their training and competition plans from the period of August 2016 to August 2017.

6.3 Local / Centralised Training

- a. Attendance at all weekly centralized training in Singapore and within the region for all athletes selected into the Road Events. The commencement of centralized training will be between August 2016 and August 2017. The centralized training will cater towards the schedules of the majority of nominated athletes. Attendance at all centralized training sessions will count towards final selection, and will be a factor when assessing teamwork.
- b. To enable athletes to plan their individual training schedules and align it with the national training programme, athletes are advised to factor in the following tentative local/overseas centralised training periods :

Camp 1 period from 2 – 4 September 2016 (Week 35)
 Camp 2 period from 21 – 23 October 2016 (Week 43)
 Camp 3 period from 25 – 27 November 2016 (Week 47)
 Camp 4 period from 30 December 2016 – 1 January 2017 (Week 52)
 Camp 5 period from 3 – 5 February 2017 (Week 5)
 Camp 6 period from 31 March – 2 April 2017 (Week 13)
 Camp 7 period from 28 – 30 April 2017 (Week 17)
 Camp 8 period from 2 – 4 May 2017 (Week 22)
 Camp 9 period from 30 June – 2 July 2017 (Week 26)
 Camp 10 period from 4 – 6 August 2017 (Week 31)

- c. Participation in weekly centralized training commencing from August 2016, inclusive of cycling and non-cycling specific training sessions (i.e. strength and conditioning, cycling intervals, group rides etc...), total weekly commitment of up to 15 hours per week will count towards final selections.

6.4 Local/Overseas Competitions

- a. Participation as a National Road Team at various competitions will count towards final selections. For athlete's advance planning purposes, listed are the Road competitions which SCF has shortlisted.

6.4.1 2016 OCBC South East Asian Speedway Championships

6.4.2 2016 Tour Of Borneo

6.4.3 2016 Jelajah Malaysia

6.4.4 2016 Melaka Governs Cup

6.4.5 2017 Asian Road Cycling Championships

6.4.6 2017 Tour Of Thailand

- b. In order to build up competition experience and results, athletes are strongly encouraged to participate in as many local/overseas cycling competitions for the 2016 and 2017 season.

6.5 Team Building Camp

Attendance at a full day personality profiling on 30 September 2016 and a Team Building camp scheduled from 28 – 30 October 2016 would count towards final selections.

6.6 SCF National Ranking

SCF National Ranking points, acquired during the 2016 local racing season, will be used for considerations as an additional data point.

SECTION C:

MEN'S & WOMEN'S TRACK CYCLING

7 INTRODUCTION TO TRACK CYCLING

Track is divided into 3 families (i.e. Sprint events, Endurance events and Sprint & Endurance combined event)

7.1 Sprint Events (Individual Sprint, Team Sprint, Kilometer, Keirin)

- 7.1.1 The Individual Sprint event is featured at the Olympics, qualification consists of flying start 200m time trials. These are followed by knockout heats of 2 – 3 laps. The best two riders fight it out in the final. Sometimes riders will come to a standstill in an effort to make their opponent take the lead, which is the least advantageous position before the final sprint to the finish line.

7.1.2 The Team Sprint event is featured at the Olympics, this specialty is raced by teams of three riders over three laps of the track (for women, 2 riders over 2 laps). Each rider leads for a lap before dropping back. After the heats, the 2 best teams line up to contest the final. Those who registered the 3rd and 4th fastest times meet up in a B final which decides the last place available on the podium.

7.1.3 The Kilometer (or 500m for women) event is an individual time trial from a standing start. The competitor with the fastest time is the winner.

7.1.4 The Keirin event is featured at the Olympics. Between 3 and 7 riders compete in a sprint race of 600 – 700 m after having followed in the slipstream of a pacing motorbike for the first 1,400m. The motorbike gradually increases the speed from 30 to 50km/hr (25 to 45km/hr for women).

7.2 Endurance Events (Individual Pursuit, Team Pursuit, Scratch)

7.2.1 The Individual Pursuit event starts with two riders on opposite sides of the track and compete over 4km (3km for Women). The winner is the rider who manages to catch his/her opponent or who records the fastest time.

7.2.2 The Team Pursuit event is featured at the Olympics, two teams of 4 riders start on opposite sides of the track and compete over 4km. The winning team is the one that manages to catch its opponents or that records the fastest time.

7.2.3 The Scratch race event is a race for up to 24 individual riders over 15km for men. The first lap is neutralized.

7.3 Sprint and Endurance combined events (Omnium)

7.3.1 The Omnium event is featured at the Olympics and made up of 6 events (i.e. Scratch race, Individual Pursuit, Elimination, Kilometer Time Trial, Flying Lap, Points Race) and is held over 2 consecutive days. The final classification is established as follows: the points accumulated by the riders over the first 5 events, on the basis of the points scale in force, are added up. During the 6th and final race, this total may increase or decrease according to the points won or lost by the rider. The winner is the rider who has the highest total of points at the end of the 6th event.

MEN'S & WOMEN'S BMX

8 INTRODUCTION TO BMX

The BMX Supercross event is featured at the Olympics, and is raced on a 350m circuit. Eight riders launch themselves from an eight-meter high ramp and race over a track alternating bumps, banked corners and flat sections. The battle for first place is fierce, as it is necessary to finish in the first four of the heats to have a place in the next round and then in the final. Depending on the lay-out of the section, the riders try either to land quickly in order to gain speed, or to gain height (riders reach up to nearly five meters high).
